DR. MOTT'S PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion of Hydrogen. Sauctioned by the highest Medicat Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Importities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Hauxious in all of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Hankalous in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Deblitty, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Darribea, Dysentery, Incipient Consamption, Scroluleus Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Missnenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Finaples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of secte disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids sulong bedinden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhooda, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just returned from proteacled travel in a distant land.—Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Suderers, emaciated vigning of apparent marsamus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical chauges, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic uversion to ait and exercise for which the physician has no name:

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and cation of nerrous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar-to-medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveneas, without ever being a gastric purgative, or milituiting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter properly, among others, which makes it so remarkshy effectual and permanent a remedy for Pites, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspensin, innanacrable as are its causes, a sliggle box of these Chalybeare Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhous, even when advanced to Dyspentery, confirmed, emediating, and apparently maliguant, the effects have been equally decisive and autonishing.

In the local pains, loss official and stength, debilitating chugh, and remittent heetic, which generally indicate Incipient Consulting characteristic characteristic control of the most cautiously balanced preparations of ionine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of femules cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and resturation; in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invalably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffices of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restor-of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully testorative effects. Good appertite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, inno-diately follow its use.

"And what will be the dimensions of the picture, Muster Venius?". he said at length, without looking at me.
"Three bet by four."
"And the price?"
"Fifty ducats."
Van Spreckdal laid the sketch down upon the table, and drawing from his pocket a long purse of green silk, began to slip the ring along—"Fifty ducats," he said, and counting them out: "here they are."
He rose, saluted me, and departed, while I sat stupefied, listening to the clank of his ivory-headed caue upon the staircase.
When I had recovered from my stupefaction, I sat down to finish my sketch. A few strokes of the pencil, and it would be

At this moment, Rapp, according to his praiseworthy custom, opened the door without knocking. His eyes fell upon the pile of ducats, and he shrieked:

"Ah, ah! I have caught you, Monsieur! You pretended you had no money," and he extended his erooked fliggers with that nervous trembiling which the sight of gold always produces in a miser.

The remembrance of all the insults I had suffered from him, exasperated me. With "My money thief! robber! my money!"

"My money: their rooper: my money: till every lodger in the house ran out, asking, "What is the matter?" I opened the door quickly, and with a single stroke of the foot sent Master Rapp rolling down the staircase.

This adventure had inspirited me, and I resumed my work with some prospect of success, but an unaccustomed noise soon success; but an unaccustomed noise soon interrupted my labors. It was the click of arms, and the tramp of men ascending the staircase. A cold chill ran over me. Can I have broken the rascal's neck? and are they coming to seize me? There was a knock at my door and a rough voice "In the name of the law, open?"

I thought of escaping by the window over the rooks; but a vertigo seized me at a mere glauce at the dizzy height. Again mere glance at the dark many the chief of turned the key and saw the chief of

"I arrest you," he said, and made a sign to two men, who seized me by the collar, while the others rummaged my garret. "March!" was the next in order, and I descended the staircase, supported under descended the staircase, supported under cach arm, like a consumptive in his third stage of ilineas.

They put me into a hackney-coach. I asked what I had done, but they only exchanged significant smiles. Soon a deep shadow enveloped us; the steps of the horses resounded under a vault. We had entered the prison. The jailer shut me up in a cell as tranquilty as if he had been putting a pair of stockings in a drawer, thinking all the time of something else. I looked around my cell. It had been newly whitewashed, and there was nothing upon the walls but a rude sketch of a gibbet, drawn by my predecessor. The light came from an aperture of the or ten feet from the floor, and the furniture consisted came from an aperture line or ten feet from the floor, and the furniture consisted of a heap of straw. Explosion of a Fireworks Manutacexplosion of a Fireworks Manufactory. Loss of Life.

New York, June 9 — The fireworks manufactory of Hatfield & Son, Williamaburg, exploded yesterdoy afternoon, killing Charles Hatfield and Jacob Gresk, and badly injuring three other workmen. The works occupied eight small brick buildings, and the explosion extended from building to building, until all but two, fire-proof, were destroyed Loss $20,000.

The Covode Investigation.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A despatch from Washington states that the Covode Committee, yesterday, entered into an examination of the alleged corruption in Scantace's district in Fennsylvania, but before they got through the testimony, Mr. Winslow, who had called for the testimony, became disgusted, and refused to take more testimony, udmitting that he had been grossly deceived.

WATER OIL!!

LEBARD'S PATENT WATER OIL, to much and smoke of the Coal Oils, is the great est arificial light yet discovered. It gives a steady, clear, soft light and does not choke the lungs with foreign matter, such as results generally from using Rosmand Kerosene Oils or Coal Gas.

The flame can be regulated to afford any amount of light desired, from that of the large solar lamp to the feellest taper. We therefore claim for the Water Oil the following as some of its leading characteristics:

1. it emiss no feetid odor.

ng ag some of its scaning.

1. 1t emits no feetid odor.

2. It will burn in Kerosene Lamps without

2. It will harn in Kerosene Lamps without alteration.
3. It is essentially an Oil, and yet will not grease the most delicate fabric.
4. It is less volatile than other oils, consequently will not consume as rapidly.
5. The flame is more purely white and soft than that of any other Oil or Fluid. Therefore less infurious to the eyes.
6. The wick may be raised to agreat height and breadth, giving an immouse illuminating power without producing smoke.
7. Its great specific gravity cenders it not only safe, but the most economical Oil in ox listence.

only sare, but on the state of the wick like Oils, nor deposite any carbonaceous fuel upon it.

9. It does not weste, as every globule of Oil and every particle of Water is entirely consumed.

The following is the Certificate from Dr. Hayes, on the illuminating power of the WATER OIL as compared with the best article of Kerosene Oil in the market;—

16 ROYLSTON STREEK, 14th Feb. 1860.
Results of comparison of the light of two lamps, one fed with Kerosene Oil, and the other with Water Oil, furnished by B. F. Hebard.

The Kerosene Lamp when lighted, seen increased its ruleme of librare, so as in present a duth hale above the brilliant part; it was adjusted to the highest point with un producing smoke? On kepting the lamp fed with Water Oil, It was found that its fame was himmons and might be much extended, without the production of smoke. A definite point perfectly practical, was reached, when the Korusene Lamp being 100, the Water Oil Lamp afforded the light of 132, without a trace of smoke emitted. The Water Oil permits of any diminution in the flame without loss of economy.
